THIS WEEK

WHO'S ON FIRST

In the Great Kiwanis Calendar in the sky JIM HUNT is scheduled to be this week's program presenter. I seem to remember that he is attending a training thing out of town and that he will have a program on an aspect of the Monrovia Police Department. This is the last meeting for three weeks so don't miss it.

LAST WEEK

THE CITRUS SINGERS

Sounding as good as ever, the Douglas Austin led ensemble regaled us with beautiful songs of the season. We presented them with a check so they can provide scholarships to musical students. However, some of the money may have to go toward the cost of a new bell. Everyone - friends, family and members – were in for quite a treat.

THE DREADED VISITORS' SONG

We emitted the only sour notes sung in the room last week as we made an ill advised effort to make our visitors feel at home. I don't think we succeeded.

MARK YOUR CALENDARS

- For a while yet tickets for the raffle drawing to support construction of the KIWANIS Rose Float are may still be available. See DON or LES.
- December 20 Help the Unity Center pack holiday boxes for needy families. See below.

UNITY CENTER

Want to see the awesome sight of a true assembly line?

Well, in the space of a couple of hours several dozens of young and old volunteers pack and sort well over a thousand boxes of food and gifts for distribution to needy families before Christmas. BE ONE OF THOSE VOLUNTEERS. Show up at 9:00 AM on December 20th at the arboretum and be put to work. It's worth the effort just to see the operation take place.

Merry Christmas

Happy New Year

See you 1/8/2009

The Marble Madness Game?

The whatever-the-name-is game was a special lottery for specific prizes. We profited to the tune of $810, which is not bad. Stay tuned as the MMG morphs into something else.

$ WHINE TIME $

PRESIDENT LES proved he'd felt the spirit of Christmas by waiving all fines. Less spiritual reasons were the large number of guests and the need for more time to be allowed the Citrus Singers. Find out if it was the spirit or simply timing at next week's meeting in 2009.

Dunlap Awarded to Chris Owens

A Dunlap Award was presented to Chris Owens by Lt. Gov. Dave Wallach in recognition of exceptional service to Our Club, division & community. Congratulations Chris!

That's all. Have a good week.
